DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 7-15 in the reply filed on 1/12/07 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 7-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 15 and 16; and in claim 11 lines 15 and 16, the phrase "the thickness of the with a neutral" is confusingly worded because it is not clear as to exactly what is being removed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 7, 9 and 10, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eda et al. 6,430,965.

Art Unit: 3723

Eda et al. discloses a method for manufacturing a glass substrate for an information recording medium, the manufacturing method comprising the steps of: a first washing step for washing a surface of the glass plate with an acid washing liquid, wherein a surface layer is formed on the surface of the glass substrate by the first washing step; a step for grinding at least part of the surface layer with diamond abrasion grains to remove at least part the surface layer; and a second washing step for washing the surface with a neutral alkaline liquid; the removing step includes scrubbing the surface with a scrub member in a circumferential direction of the glass plate while supplying the surface with diamond abrasion grains; the first washing step includes immersing the glass plate in a strong alkaline solution (col. 6, lines 26-45; and Examples 1-4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 8 and 11-15, as best understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eda et al.

Eda et al. is described above. Referring to claim 8, Eda et al. does not specifically disclose a depth for grinding the surface or a thickness of the substrate. Determining the thickness of the substrate is a matter of design choice since the thickness could be determined through experimentation to ascertain what would constitute a feasible thickness. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have ground the surface layer for a depth of 0.5 nm or more so that the surface layer has a thickness of 3 nm or less, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Referring to claims 11-15, Eda et al. discloses the claimed invention except that Eda et al. does not disclose the pH levels of the acid and alkaline washing liquids. Discovering an optimum range could be determined through experimentation. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used washing solutions have pH 3.0 or less; 10.5 or less and 11 to 13, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.
